When the Rodriguez family applied to build and buy a home with Habitat for Humanity over 6 years ago, they did it with one main dream: hope. Maria had hope for her children’s future. She wanted to provide a safe place for her sons to sleep, study and thrive.

Thrive they have! Daniel Rodriguez, a 2019 graduate of Northridge High School was awarded the Daniels Scholarship which provides four years of tuition and fees, room and board, books and various expenses for students attending any accredited nonprofit college or university in the U.S. With more than 2,000 applicants, this year the foundation awarded 218 scholarships in Colorado, New Mexico and Wyoming including six District 6 students. Daniel will attend Indiana University this fall to pursue a Bachelor’s degree in Media, with an emphasis in Sports Media.

Starting out as a single mom to Daniel, Maria worked long, hard hours to provide the best for her son. “There were times my mom would drop me off at a friend’s house at 5 AM on her way to work. I would try to sleep on the couch or pretend to sleep while I waited for the household to get up and get ready for school. Then after school it would be a similar routine. My Mom is really disciplined, she has worked so hard for our family. She is the reason I am successful! One of my mom’s main goals for me was to go to college.” Daniel will be the first in his family to attend college.

Later, Maria met and married Gregorio, and then along came a little brother. With a growing family, the Rodriguez family needed a safe neighborhood to call home, a home they could afford and grow in. They applied to buy a home with Habitat. “Finally we had a stable place to call home, a solid foundation along with my solid family structure.” said Daniel.

Daniel says “It is amazing how much your environment impacts your perspective. In our previous neighborhood I had ‘fake friends’. They weren’t people I could rely on. When we moved into our home in our new neighborhood alongside our Habitat neighbors, I made life-long friends. Real friends who want the best for me and support me. Habitat has provided much more than a house for my family.”

Daniel recalls “Having a new home was cool, but it was all the support and the people I met during the process that made all the difference. I loved building alongside the Habitat volunteers and staff on-site. During lunch they would mentor and encouraged me to continue to work hard in high school and to follow my heart in terms of a career. This inspired me to give back. Initially, my plan was to go to college and get a good-paying job so I could come back and donate lots of money to this community and the programs that helped me. But after building with Habitat, I started to see that the way to make the biggest difference and leave the most significant legacy was working directly in the programs I feel passionate about.” Daniel spent his summer after graduation as a youth leader at the Rodarte Center.

Daniel is now completing his first semester, “It has been good to step out of my comfort zone of Greeley. Everything I do is to make my Mom proud. I will be back, Greeley is my home. I want to return and invest in my community. I want to leave a positive footprint on my community.”

In 2015 the Rodriguez family home was sponsored by Jean Daviet in memory of her beloved husband Dave Daviet.

Executive Director Message
Habitat for Humanity is built on a simple vision: A world where everyone has a decent place to live. Every day in Weld County we encounter the hidden faces of those living in poverty housing. They are your certified nurse’s assistants, teachers, city and county employees, agricultural employees, hospitality industry staff or small business employees. We hear a lot about workforce housing these days, and many of you might be surprised to learn Habitat for Humanity is a leading workforce housing provider for over 40 years internationally, and 32 years right here in Greeley and Weld County. Collectively to date Habitat for Humanity helped more than 22 million people build or improve the place they call home.

Locally you have righted the course for families like our Greeley Veteran Build partner, Leroy Martinez, who has a newly constructed home to raise his two children. Luz Herrera and her five daughters, who just five years ago, were homeless living in their car. This year they will be celebrating Thanksgiving and Christmas in their brand new home. Our Miliken family, who persevered for four years, is now building her home for her four children in her hometown. M ima, a single mom with her son, has been living in a mold-infested basement with only a sheet between the two in the living room to create their bedrooms, and is now building their future home. Your generosity lives on in their families and has literally changed their world, forever.

All this empowered through affordable shelter and homeownership. As you read our annual report for 2018 you will be inspired by the lives you are impacting for generational good and transformational change.

We’ve accomplished all of this with the support of our generous volunteers, donors, supporters and community partners. It is you, and our Habitat families who are the heart and soul of the work we do. Your investments as well as working alongside our families, helps them achieve the lifelong tools of independence, strength and self-reliance.

On behalf of our board and staff, we deeply thank you for your investment in the fight against poverty housing in Weld County and throughout the world.
